

To Prospective Parents:

My husband and I found out we were expecting our first child in February of 2010. I immediately started looking into child care options in our area because I wanted to be as informed as possible on who would be looking after my child when I returned to work after maternity leave.

We went to the state website and immediately came across Kiddie Shack. We called and spoke to Sabrina and she was very kind and gave us lots of information. To just make sure we covered all the bases my husband called over fifty perspective childcare facilities and in home care providers over the course of the next few months.

We interviewed numerous facilities both corporate and in home. I felt personally that the corporate childcare environment was too sterile and not personal. They change teachers too often and I didn't feel like Eve would get to know any one teacher.

We interviewed with Donna and Sabrina and immediately felt a kinship to them. They are both mothers and you could tell that the children in their care truly loved them.

Eve has been in their care for the past five months and we couldn't be happier. She thrives there and seems very happy whenever we pick her up or drop her off. I feel like Sabrina and Donna, and now Miss Sarah, all love my child and truly enjoy spending time with her and teaching her new things.

I can't imagine trusting anyone else to the care of my child and I hope to continue to use Kiddie Shack for all of Eve's future siblings as well!
